DOORS OPEN DENVER

PRESENTED BY

DENVER ARCHITECTURE FOUNDATION

→ Doors Open Denver is an annual 2-day event that engages participants in celebrating and experiencing our city's built environment. Each year, the Denver Architecture Foundation inspires the community to connect through self-guided or expert-guided tours of Denver's unique spaces. In many cases, the public would not otherwise have access to these sites.

HOW TO NAVIGATE DOORS OPEN DENVER

Welcome to Doors Open Denver 2019! The following are ways in which you can participate in this year's event.

JOIN US FOR AN INSIDER TOUR

Insider Tours provide opportunities to learn from experts about structures and locales significant to Denver's history, development, design and future.

These tours are lead by architects, landscape architects, historians and urban enthusiasts who have special knowledge of Denver's neighborhoods and buildings. Only $12! To buy tickets, visit denverarchitecture.org.

VISIT OUR OPEN SITES

Open sites are buildings that have opened their doors to the public and are free to explore. There are over 50 open sites this year at Doors Open Denver. A complete list of sites, hours and other basic info can be found on this page and the next. Complete info can be found at denverarchitecture.org.

PARTICIPATE IN FREE, ENGAGING ARTS ACTIVITIES

Thanks to the generous support of the Bonfils-Stanton Foundation, this year Doors Open Denver will offer five enriching arts events at several open sites in the La Alma/Lincoln Park neighborhood. See complete details on Page 7.

September 21 + 22, 2019

La Alma/Lincoln Park Neighborhood

denverarchitecture.org

This year's Bonfils-Stanton Foundation supported Arts + Culture Activities will be concentrated in the La Alma/Lincoln Park neighborhood. Join us for a step back into the influential 50s/60s/70s Chicano/Latino culture of La Alma/Lincoln Park with a Santa Fe Drive exhibition of wheat pasted historic building "plaques" and enriching cultural experiences. Enjoy live acting, art making, spoken word and community! Don't forget to partake of the culinary delights offered at each site.

Center for Visual Art

965 SANTA FE DRIVE

September 21 + 22, 10am both days

If a dwelling is a body, the lives inside of it are the soul. So much of the architecture of community rests in the stories of the people. Colorado Poet Laureate, Bobby LeFebre, will sit down with five West Denver residents or stakeholders for five minutes each to hear their stories and create original poems on-the-spot, which speak to their unique existences. This will take place in the Denver Architecture Foundation's pop-up booth on a first-come, first-served basis. Photographer, Armando Geneyro, will capture the participants' images as part of the collaborative process.

September 21 + 22, 11am both days

Adobe construction dates back thousands of years with strong roots in Hispanic communities of the Southwest. Check out the Center for Visual Art's Adobe Village to learn about Hispanic Adobe structures while getting your hands in the mud. Visitors will have the opportunity to help construct small adobe buildings with guidance from MSU Denver art professors Carlos Frésquez and Tsehai Johnson.

Su Teatro

721 SANTA FE DRIVE

September 21 + 22, 1pm both days

In March 1969, students walked out of Denver West High School, protesting the racism of their teachers and the system. Their actions were met with billy clubs and tear gas. Fifty years later we remember the incendiary actions that made a movement. Catch scenes from the hit Su Teatro production, Chicano Power 1969: Fire in the Streets, written and directed by Anthony J. Garcia. Visit all Arts + Culture sites on this list for a chance to experience "art bursts" inspired by the play.

Museo de las Américas

861 SANTA FE DRIVE

September 21 + 22, 3pm both days

Meaning small plaza, plazitas are the central point of a Latino community or neighborhood where all things Latino come together – art, culture, food and people. Experience and shop La Plazita's local artist made goods, enjoy small bites and spend time admiring the newly crafted gazebo as Museo de las Américas' patio is transformed into a representation of this Latino heritage market.

Y/OUR DENVER PHOTO CONTEST

DAF and the Colorado Photographic Arts Center (CPAC) are pleased to present our 2nd annual Doors Open Denver Photography Competition, Y/OUR DENVER. This is your opportunity to find and photograph your favorite areas of Denver and enter your images into a juried competition. This call is looking for all forms of architectural imagery: black & white, color, exterior, interior and detail images are welcome from photographers of all skill levels. Thirty images will be showcased on the DAF and CPAC websites for this online exhibition. Entry deadline: October 7, 2019. Check out the complete call, including prizes, at denverarchitecture.org.

TRANSPORTATION

There's so much to see and do during Doors Open Denver weekend, we strongly suggest you plan ahead – pick your route and pick your method of transportation! As always, the Denver Architecture Foundation encourages walking, biking, ridesharing and using public transportation.

We'll see you
September 21 + 22!
