
EXPLORE, EXPERIENCE, ENVISION DENVER.

Denver Architecture Foundation inspires people to explore our dynamic city, experience the importance of design to our quality of life and envision an exceptional future for Denver.

Denver's built environment is rapidly changing and, with it, public interest in architecture and design continues to grow. Denver Architecture Foundation is Denver's go-to resource for architecture education and experiences, working collaboratively with cross-sector partners to offer public programs that celebrate quality design and integrate design experiences into everyday life.

We are the architects of the following programs, engaging audiences and participants of all ages, identities and backgrounds and inviting them to explore, experience, and envision our wonderful city as an ever-evolving museum. Join us, collaborate with us and support us. Doors Open Denver (DOD)

DOD is a curated exhibit of Denver's built environment. Thousands of audience members explore and experience architecture through free and ticketed offerings and the YOUR Denver photography competition.

Cleworth Architectural Legacy Project (CAL)

CAL brings architecture education into Denver classrooms reaching hundreds of K-8 students. DAF trains partnering teachers, provides lesson plans and pairs teachers with volunteer architects.

Hard Hat Tours + Walking Tours + Audio Tours

DAF offers an array of tours year-round, inviting audiences to explore and experience historic, contemporary, iconic and under-construction architecture. Tours are in-person, virtual or in audio format.

Box City

Box City is our annual architecture event for K-5 students. Participants create and construct building designs out of recycled materials, then proudly place their buildings on a city grid inside History Colorado.

Special Events + Lectures

Special Events and Lectures connect the public with architecture and design experts in their private residences, exhibition spaces or lecture halls where we focus on community education and dialogue.
