

Shape Architecture

750 Pennsylvania Street
Denver, CO, 80203

Firm Information

Shape Architecture Studio is a contemporary architecture firm based in Denver and Leadville - we are experts in radically sustainable design, focusing on ultra low-energy buildings and community-centric design.

We believe in the power of architectural design to shape positive change and work with clients, developers, and builders who value long-term sustainable impact. Together, we'll create buildings that are healthier, more comfortable, consume less energy, and respond thoughtfully to your local community and climate.
