About the Firm

MOA ARCHITECTURE is a diverse team of talented and experienced architects, interior designers, planners, marketers, technologists, and administrative staff all here for one purpose—to make a difference in people's lives, our community, and our world by delivering the promise and value of great design.

This higher purpose drives and motivates our team to achieve great things and pushes us to think differently from other firms about the concept of success. We do not pursue objectives like market share, strong balance sheet, and profit — we believe that these are “outcomes” of a different and higher level of success, defined by making a difference through design. This approach means that we know why we are here, why we come to work every day, know where our strengths come from, where we are going and why.
